HAND ARM VIBRATION SYNDROME (HAVS)

HAVS occurs when people have exposure to excessive vibration. Many tools including grinders, breakers and drills produce vibration.

Health and safety law requires employers to protect their employees. Here at Hares Hire we appreciate the we have a role to play in helping you manage HAVS in your organisation. Obviously when adding machines to our fleet we look to the manufacturers with the lowest HAV rating. Also we have IOSH qualified staff that can offer advice at any time.

If needed we can work with you to complete a risk assessment and help you to establish systems for managing HAVS.

The HAVi is a fantastic tool that can help to reduce and control HAVS exposure. Speak to us about how you can implement the simple to use HAVi as part of your HAVS management. Available for both hire and sale.
